

Official City Directory. D. J. WELLS, who has been conducting the Gem Saloon, at the corner of East Fifth street and Wyandotte avenue, has closed out his business to S. A. Collier, and the Gem is now in the hands of J. F. Slomp, who has, many months past, catered to the public in Collier's saloon. Mr. Collier will continue business at his old stand on Wyandotte, and will also keep the Gem moving on the corner.

It is said that some sixty masked men in Buchanan county went to a colored family living therein and conducted them over the county line and warned them never to come back there again. There is but one other colored family living in the county, and they are to be gotten rid of at once. The killing of Shortridge and nearly, if not quite, of Ratcliff, at Richlands, recently, has raised the dander of the Buchananites against the negro, and that county will not be healthy for the "man and brother" for some time to come.

Mrs. S. W. Thacker arrived on the last inst., and, with her husband, is quartered at Mr. J. L. Jennings'. Mr. and Mrs. Thacker were married several months ago, at Highland Springs, Va., and, immediately after the event, on account of urgent business, Mr. Thacker was compelled to return here, leaving his young bride at her old home, where she has been until her arrival here. There is a considerable amount of romance surrounding the courtship and marriage of the happy couple. They met but once before their union, it was a case of true love at first sight; they corresponded for months; were married; separated for months and now enter upon the happy realization of the fact that they are like many of us—husband and wife.

Going to Staunton.

The Post regrets very much to learn of Dr. W. C. Shelton that he will leave in a few days for his old home at Staunton, Va. Dr. Shelton has been engaged in the drug business here for about three years, and in the time, by his genial and courteous manners, has made for himself many warm friends who regret to see him leave.

Garden Seed.

The same line of garden seeds—T. W. Wood & Son's—as have heretofore been handled by W. C. Shelton & Co., will be found in stock at J. W. Kelly's new drug store, Ayers building, Wood avenue. These seeds have given better satisfaction than any others ever sold here. Gardeners should call early before the assortment is broken.

The Revival Closed.

The revival service which has been in progress at Trinity church under the management of Revs. J. O. Straley and J. M. McManaway closed Tuesday night. The meeting continued for three weeks and each service, day and night, was largely attended. Forty sermons were preached during the revival, and much good was the result.

Accident at the Pining Mill.

Yesterday was a day of bad luck and mishaps generally. In the evening, after the physicians had gotten Major Harrington to resting as easily as was possible with his serious wound, a summons came for Dr. Kunkel from the pining mill. On his arrival there he found that Dave Durham, an employe, while working with a circular saw, that was in motion, let his right hand come in contact with it, and was seriously wounded. On examination, the doctor found it necessary to amputate the first three fingers of the right hand.

Returned.

Mr. E. J. Bird, president of the Appalachian Steel and Iron Co., arrived yesterday evening, after an absence of several weeks in Ohio. President Bird has a plan mapped out in his head, that if put in operation, will be a greater benefit to the town of Big Stone Gap than almost anything that has been talked of for the place. If there is a possible chance to put the plan into operation, then it will not fail, for Mr. Bird has certainly exhibited his ability for overcoming difficulties in the success which has attended his efforts in the establishment and continued operation of the furnace at this place. As soon as he will give the Post liberty to do so it will make known his intentions.

SAD ACCIDENT.

Maj. W. C. Harrington Dangerously Wounded.

Seven Inches of Steel Penetrates His Body.

About 8 o'clock yesterday morning, while the guests of the Internont were at breakfast, a sad and probably fatal accident happened to Maj. W. C. Harrington, proprietor of the hotel, while in his office alone.

He was heard to call for assistance. Capt. A. B. Eaton and Mr. D. H. Shelby were the first ones to reach him. They found him lying on his office floor with one blade of a large pair of bankers' shears penetrating his right side. Mr. Shelby took hold of the shears and attempted to draw the blade from the wound, but was told by the Major to let them remain and to summon a physician at once.

Drs. J. W. Kelly and C. D. Kunkel were summoned, and as soon as possible made an examination of the wound. They found one blade of the shears had entered the right side, about two inches below the border of the ribs, and about three inches to the right of the median line, penetrating the flesh about seven inches.

Maj. Harrington explained the accident in this way:

He had in his office one of the ordinary spring-back revolving office chairs. The chair had been broken, and was very easily tilted over. He was occupying this chair at the time, and was engaged in clipping a news item from a paper with the shears, and while attempting to turn round in the chair, it went over with him. He was thrown on to the point of one of the blades of the shears he held in his right hand, which resulted as above stated.

He displayed remarkable nerve and presence of mind under the circumstances. He would not allow the shears to be removed till the arrival of the physicians and lay for perhaps thirty minutes in this condition on his office floor.

The wound being of a very serious nature, Drs. Kelly and Kunkel immediately telegraphed Dr. Butler, of Bristol, to come on next train. He arrived on the S. A. & O. train, and the three physicians were with him last night.

At this hour, 10 a. m., Thursday morning, he is reported by his physicians as resting well, having spent a quiet and restful night, but as yet neither of them will express an opinion as to the probable result of the wound, as some new complication may show itself at any moment that would entirely change the course now being pursued.

About two weeks ago Maj. Harrington took out a life and accident policy through Mr. Gus W. Lovell's agency, of this place, for $10,000.

SEND 75 cents to C. M. Harris, Big Stone Gap, Va., and get a copy of the "Blue Book." It tells you all about how to get a Government appointment.

For Sale.

Some good tracts of Coal and Timber Lands. Some splendid bargains in Town Lots, Improved Property, Stocks, Bonds, etc. Apply to E. M. Haines, office in Intermont hotel building, Big Stone Gap, Virginia.

Still They Come.

While attempting to drive a nail yesterday contractor W. F. Baker, hit the wrong nail on the head. The one he hit was his thumb nail. The lick was sufficient to cause a painful wound, entirely taking away the thumb nail.

Out of Darkness Into Light.

Mr. C. K. Morrell, late of Middleborough, Ky., is now in charge of the Electric Light and Power Co.'s plant, and once more the town has stepped from darkness into light. Mr. Morrell is a practical electrician and now has everything in nice running order.

Born.

Saturday night, March 4th, to Judge and Mrs. H. A. W. Skeen, a son. He arrived a little too late to attend Grover's inaugural, but Judge says he has a regular democratic head on him and some day may have an inaugural of his own.

Friday, March 5th, to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wallis, on Poplar Hill, a son.

Gus W. Lovell was the man you saw doing the high-step act on the street the other day. It's a girl and Gus is as happy as a big sun-flower.

(To be continued in our next.)

The Internont Closed.

On account of the serious and possibly fatal accident to Maj. Harrington on yesterday morning, the Internont hotel has been closed. Major Harrington has been the popular proprietor of the Internont for nearly twelve months, and through many difficulties has conducted and managed it in first-class style. To him is due much credit for the manner in which he has conducted the hotel, and with regret, do the people of the town and the general public see the doors of this popular hostelry again closed.

Highly Important If True.

The Associated Press papers a day or two ago contained this dispatch from St. Louis: Benjamin Brazzelle, a St. Louis man, has invented a process of steel manufacturing that, it is claimed, far eclipses the discovery of Bessemer and will also reduce the cost of steel rails; that they can by its use be sold at a good profit for one-half the present expense of making them. By Brazzelle's process it is asserted that either pig iron or steel can be made direct from the ore with a gas fuel and it is claimed that by the process the best Bessemer pig iron can be made for less than $10 and steel in the billet for $12.50 a ton.

Bessemer received $1,000,000 on the American rights of his patent, the Carnegie Steel Company, and other large concerns being the purchasers. If Brazzelle's process will accomplish all that is claimed for it, Bessemer's invention will be worthless as it cannot compete with the other. That some people have faith in the St. Louisian's discovery is evidenced by the fact that the coming week a company will be organized in this city with a capital of $1,000,000 to build a large plant in East St. Louis during the next three months, to manufacture pig iron and steel by his process.

Editor Post:

Ben Harrison leaves the White House to-day and Grover Cleveland fills his place. May the good work go on.

Circuit court is in session this week with our new judge, Floyd Hall, presiding.

Messrs. A. F., N. R. and Sam T. Webb went to Whitesburg Monday.

On last Monday week, Allen Lee entered the store house of N. R. Craft, of Craftsville, and took about $50 worth of goods. He was pursued and captured near Norton, Va., and brought to Kentucky. He was lodged in Letcher's jail to await trial. Doubtless he'll come out—as the old saying is—"at the little end of the horn."

Prof. James J. and N. M. Webb and County Superintendent Lewis were here Saturday and returned Sunday, via Whitesburg, where they will visit their best "gals."

Sam T. Webb and family have moved to Thornton Creek.

A cow owned by J. L. Webb opened a gate a few nights ago which was latched and pegged and eat nearly two bushels of beans. Good enough for an old cow.

S. T. Webb made a flying visit to Line Fork Tuesday.

"Doctor" Lewis and John Bates, of Cumberland Valley Institute, passed through here Saturday, for Horn.

Died, on the 28th ult., Mr. Edward Combs, of fever, after an illness of several months. We trust that our loss is his eternal gain.

E. A. Hammons returned from Norton, Va., yesterday.

Elders W. R. Craft and Joseph Hall preached to a large audience at Millstone Saturday and Sunday.

Nelson R. Craft, of Craftsville, passed through here Tuesday for Whitesburg.
